As a predominantly Catholic country, Timor-Leste has a unique opportunity to develop faith-based tourism that is inclusive of all religions in Timor-Leste (e.g. Hindu, Muslim, Catholic, Protestant, Confucious). There is an entire industry catering to faith-based travel, tourism and hospitality that includes people embarking on individual or group pilgrimages or missionary travel as well as religion-based cruises, fellowship vacations, crusades, rallies, retreats and visiting iconic faith-based tourist attractions across the globe. For example, it is estimated that as much as seven percent (160 million) of the world’s Christian population (2.2 billion) are on the move as pilgrims each year.

There are seven million Catholics in Indonesia, many of whom would potentially be interested in experiencing the Catholic traditions of Timor-Leste.

This holds great promise for Timor-Leste considering the size of it’s neighbor’s tourism sector. Indonesia’s tourism economy - including inbound, outbound and domestic tourism is booming. As the fourth biggest contributor to the Indonesian economy (after oil and gas, coal, and palm oil) Indonesia’s tourism sector earned US$11.3 billion from an estimated 12 million inbound tourists in 2016. The majority of these visitors originate from East Asia and the Pacific. The tourism sector in Indonesia also benefits from domestic tourism demand with over 250 million estimated trips annually. According to the UN World Tourism Organization (UNWTO), Indonesians are also traveling overseas in increased numbers with some US$ 7 billion in overseas tourism expenditure in 2016 ranking the country 22nd globally as a source market.

From a demand perspective, Indonesia presents significant opportunity for tourism growth to Timor-Leste. Dili is a short flight from Kupang, Denpasar, Surabaya, Bandung and Jakarta. Unfortunately, airfares to access Timor-Leste are currently expensive in comparison to other routes in Southeast Asia. However, this situation is expected to be mitigated as Timor-Leste embarks on a more aggressive approach to aviation and access.

Middle class Indonesians are aware of Timor-Leste as a destination due to the countries' shared history, and Bahasa is commonly spoken in most parts of the country. Christianity is the second-largest religious sect in Indonesia representing some ten percent of the population (26 million), of which seven million are estimated to be Catholic.

Many opportunities exist for Timor-Leste to tap into the Indonesian outbound market. The Timor-Leste tourism sector should devise an approach to attract Indonesian Catholics to experience a Catholic-dominant country within a two-hour flying distance of Denpasar, Jakarta and Surabaya.

Improved conditions for investment in historical and cultural tourism is important for Timor-Leste to promote the country’s image. Religion is a fundamental element of the history and culture of Timor-Leste. Timor-Leste is nominally Catholic in large part due to Portuguese influence during the colonial period. The Catholic faith became a central part of Timor-Leste culture during the Indonesian occupation between 1975 and 1999 and since independence from Indonesia, Timor-Leste has become only the second predominantly Catholic country in Asia after the Philippines.
Religious attractions also play an important role in destination branding. Timor-Leste’s Cristo Rei (Christ the King) statue, located in Meti-Aut Dili, is an iconic symbol of the country and its Capital City of Dili. Another example is Nain Feto Ramelau (St. Mary Ramelau) statue located on the top of Ramelau Mountain, which has become central to the brand of Hatobuilico District. These places are today being sought after by not only domestic tourists, but also international tourists, particularly from Indonesia and Australia. There are many other significant sites including caves, historical churches, sacred places, graves of religious locations in other municipalities that can be explored and become potential attractions to bring more religious tourists to Timor-Leste.

This report explores the potential market for Timor Leste from the perspective of the Indonesian outbound faith-based tourism market by taking into account what is currently available and what is needed for the further development of this niche market opportunity. Specifically, the report looks at tourism product development (supply) and marketing and promotion (demand), including a summary of observations concerning tourism supply and key observations as they pertain to constraints, opportunities and risks of developing Indonesian demand for tourism to Timor-Leste. Recommended packages and itineraries are also presented as is a market analysis within key targeted areas in Indonesia (Java and Bali initially) to determine demand for outbound tourism to Timor-Leste by Indonesians. The research is founded on consultations with key outbound tourism stakeholders in Indonesia including, but not limited to airlines, tour operators and civil society organizations.

Overall, the expert found that there are products and services in Timor-Leste that have potential. Indeed product is the ‘object’ to be visited and the ‘services’ are the intangible product which will be felt by the consumers when utilizing the products.

Short, medium and long term plans are needed to anticipate the growth and improve market share of the Indonesian outbound market. Consideration of certain risks ranging from insufficient hotel facilities to instability and security. Therefore, consideration of duty of care of the visitor is essential to ensure satisfaction, which leads to positive social media reviews and word of mouth promotion.

This can be supported through on-going promotion, destination awareness, and marketing campaigns targeted at select Indonesian markets will help to stimulate demand.

The report including 34 notes of meetings which was conducted in Dili, Denpasar, Bandung and Jakarta. These notes are included in the annex section of this report.
INVENTORY OF SITES WITH APPEAL TO INDONESIANS

Timor-Leste’s stunning mountain scenery, coffee plantations, pristine coral reefs, indigenous culture and hospitality, as well as its Portuguese and Indonesian heritage left over from years of colonialism and occupation can all be experienced in this tiny country.

In relation to faith-based tourism, below is an inventory of potential site available in Timor-Leste:

- Christo Rei
  Located in the Fatucama Peninsula, east of Dili, is Christo Rei statue, which can be reached by climbing some 597 steps. The Christo Rei statue was unveiled by President Suharto in 1996 as a gift from the Indonesian Government to the people of East Timor, when the country was still considered a province of Indonesia. The height of the statue is 27 meters and it is one of the main tourist attractions in the country.

- Mt. Ramelau
  Mt. Ramelau is famous for the Virgin Mary statue located on the summit of the mountain (2997m), which is accessible from Hautobulico where you can start climbing in the early hours in order to get the beautiful and stunning sunrise view. This religious site is famous during the Easter period when more than five thousand people visit and participate in the stations of cross traditional ceremony.

- Stations of the Cross – Golgota
  Stations of the Cross in Golgota located in the center of Dili is comprised of 14 stations and at the end of the stations, you will see beautiful scenery of Dili from above.

- Monteal Church – the oldest church in Dili
  Although the church is the oldest in Dili most people remember it as the church that was attack by the Indonesian army back in 1992 resulting in the death of more than one hundred young people hiding in the church for protection. In front of the church there is a statue symbolizing the act as a memoriam and people celebrating on every 12 November as a day of mourning.

- Santa Cruz Cemetery
  This cemetery serves as a distinct memory of what happened in the massacre of more than 200 young people attending a memorial service in November 1991. It is beautifully laid with ornate graves and has become a must visit site when in Timor-Leste.

- Cathedral
  Dili Cathedral is the biggest in Southeast Asia and comprised of impressive architecture. Mass is held on Saturday and Sunday and foreign visitors are welcome.
• Taman Makam Pahlawan (Indonesia)
  A beautiful and peaceful place maintained by the Embassy of the Republic of Indonesia, this cemetery is for Indonesian heroes as a memory for the Indonesian troops who died during the war. It is a place that may be of interest to Indonesians, particularly those whose relatives fought in the war. Names are written on the wall in memory of those deceased and buried here.

• Giri Nata
  Giri Nata will be the biggest Pura (temple) in Timor-Leste when it is completed in late 2019/early 2020. It is a Hindu place of worship and prayer, located on the top of the hill in Taibesi district. In Timor-Leste, there is a Hindu community - mainly Balinese - that lives in the region already for some years. This temple will be a potential destination for Hindu believers to pray. Tirtayatra (Hindu's Spiritual journey) may be arranged through the Indonesia community to visit this temple.

• Oecusse
  Oecusse is a potential tourism pilgrimage destination suggested by the Dili-based Catholic Church leadership. Located in the west part of Timor Island, it is easily accessible from by bus or air. It has the potential to be a good combination destination with Dili when visiting Timor-Leste. The places of interest in Oecusse are Pante Macassar, some of the heritage churches which have been preserved in the form of Gothic churches, a relic of St. Anthony, the lying statue of Jesus (Senhor de Morto), Marian pilgrim sites, and more.

• Mountain Trekking in Mount Ramelau Area
  Trekking is a popular activity which offers visitors an opportunity to interact with nature and learn about local culture, communities and traditional rural life. Timor-Leste mountains offer breathtaking views. This can be a popular activity for Indonesians, possibly as an add on to a faith-based visit.

• Scuba Diving and Snorkeling on Atauro Island
  Atauro is an island with excellent marine activities, particularly scuba diving. Located 25 kilometers north of the capital Dili, the island can be reach by boat in about 2 hours. This can also be an extension for Indonesians visiting Timor-Leste as part of a faith-based journey. There are many churches on the island, most of which are Protestant.

• Local Handicraft
  Near Liquica, Indonesians can visit local handicraft producers making woven cloth, finely woven baskets, mats, pottery, jewelry, bags and more. The Tais (a unique woven cloth of the country) Market in Dili is a must visit for visitors to the country. They are colorful and beautifully woven by hand. Tais is an attractive gift as are the many other attractive arts and handicrafts such as paintings, dolls, intricately embroidered bags, musical instruments, metal knives and wood carvings.
FAITH-BASED TOURISM: CURRENT SCENARIO AND INITIATIVES

Current Scenario
Albeit, faith-based tourism – particularly from Indonesia - has great potential for Timor-Leste, there is currently very little being done to support its growth. There are no tour packages featuring elements of faith-based tourism. Timor-Leste does not actively promote its tourism offer in Indonesia. And there is limited collaboration in tourism development between government, industry and civil society institutions such as the Church. Indonesians must acquire a visa when entering Timor-Leste (and pay US$30), which seems unfair and lacking of reciprocity given that Timorese are free to travel to Indonesia visa-free. Fortunately, this situation may change with a June 2019 ruling by the Council of Ministers to remove visa fees for Indonesian. The current state of civil aviation in Timor-Leste and exorbitant airfares to and from Dili is also a major inhibitor to growing tourism arrivals from Indonesia.

On a positive note, there seems to be increased momentum to develop faith-based tourism given the commitment by USAID’s Tourism For All project to stimulate implementation of the National Tourism Policy, which was approved by the Council of Ministers in March 2017. Entitled “Growing Tourism to 2030-Creating a Sense of National Identity” the policy envisages that by 2030 the country will have a vibrant tourism sector that makes a significant contribution to employment across the country; is economically, socially and environmentally sustainable; helps promote a positive image of Timor-Leste overseas; and is an industry that people wish to work in.

The Tourism Policy posits five overarching themes through which government, industry, civil society, academia, and development partners should view tourism and focus their efforts in order to achieve the goal of sector prosperity and sustainability for Timor-Leste.

- The tourism sector is viewed as a priority pillar of economic development that is embraced by government, the private sector, and civil society.
- The tourism sector produces prosperity through linkages with local industries, delivery of employment opportunities, and the creation of profitable ventures.
- The tourism sector supports the protection of the natural environment and unique cultural heritage of the country, ensures sustainable development, and guarantees duty of care of international visitors.
• The tourism sector is characterized by a range of public and private partnership arrangements that stimulate, develop and grow a diverse portfolio of tourism products and services.

Importantly the Tourism Policy highlights the need for strong partnership. This is something that USAID’s Tourism For All project has supported around the theme of faith-based tourism by forming the Faith-based Tourism Working Group. Through the 2nd International Conference of Emerging Tourism Destinations (ICETD) held in May 2019 entitled ‘Peace, Harmony and Fellowship: Faith-based Tourism Development’, this working group along with the Government of Timor-Leste regularly discusses a way forward for faith-based tourism development in Timor-Leste.

In relation to faith-based tourism and suggestions on how to boost market potential from Indonesia, the expert observed through meetings in Dili, Denpasar, Bandung and Jakarta the following.

Church
The Catholic Church has a strong and powerful connection with the Government of Timor-Leste at the national, district and suco levels. The Church has the gravitas to advocate for support from the public sector to help improve the quality of religious sites in targeted areas, i.e. Dili and the Mount Ramalau area in relation to infrastructure, experiences and services.

Government
The unfortunate lack of reasonably priced aviation access from Indonesia is a significant inhibitor to growth and something that the Government of Timor-Leste should view as a national emergency. The Government must advocate for improved access by establishing an Aviation Task Force and commencing dialogue with key strategic airlines. The country should also look at a more liberal ‘open skies’ policy to attract more airlines.

In addition, the Ministry of Tourism should add a section to its website www.timorleste.tl featuring faith based tourism. A calendar of events of all faiths should be included on the website and regularly updated. The visitor information center should also have more information on faith-based tourism in the country.

Faith-based Working Group
The first Faith based tourism working group meeting organized by USAID’s Tourism For All Project in March 2019 was well attended by five major religions in the country including: Catholic, Christian, Moslem, Hindu and Kung Fu Chu, as well as the representatives from Tour Operators, NGOs, Universities, Civil society and local institutions. The meeting concluded by the signed a Declaration of Intent to work together amongst all religious leaders to start putting their ideas and religious activities/attractions together for the development and marketing of faith-based tourism in Timor-Leste.

Faith-based tourism in Timor-Leste not only focuses on one religion, but is accumulation of all main religions (Catholic, Protestant, Hinduism, Moslem, and Kung Fu Chu) their believes, rituals, and places of worship of all religions such as Church, Mosque, Vihara, and Temple. From a tourism perspective, such places have high appeal and can be the basis for tourism-related pilgrimages.
The Faith-based Tourism Working Group can help bring good prospect to the country, as religious tourism is a good fit for Timor-Leste, and there is a robust regional source market within reach. It can help attract tens of thousands of religious tourists, charity workers, missionaries and humanitarians creating a huge financial gain for a place like Timor-Leste.

Tour Operator

Currently, there are 10 inbound tour operators existing in the country, however, none of them currently concentrate on religious tourism as a niche. All of them have create their own tour packages and promote in their own websites and also share through hotels and travel agencies around Dili.

Based on the information provided by Eco Discovery Tours, they have various packages of 4D/3N, combining between beach, diving/snorkeling activities and mountain climbing. Timor Adventures also offers various packages from a day trip to several day packages. They also make tailor made itineraries to match client requirements.

Most tour operators indicate a willingness to work with the various religious denominations, and specifically through the Faith-based Tourism Working Group to develop new itineraries that combine religious and leisure activities as well as itineraries that focus purely on religious activities.

Currently, the main organizers for religious trips to Timor-Leste are Catholic churchs, which mainly organize mission trips within Indonesia and to outbound destinations. In most cases, these packages are purchased directly from Indonesian tour operators, including flight tickets, land services, accommodation, etc.

According to expert interviews, wholesalers willing to promote and sell the packages from Bandung to Timor-Leste are Antavaya, Azi Tours, Banda Tours, Visiatama, exodus and from Jakarta Antavaya (Jakarta), TX Travel, Panorama JTB (Outbound Division), Destination Marketing and Visi Tours. From Bali, the main operators include: Focus Asia Manumadi (Asian Market), BIWA tour (Hongkong market), Khiri Travel (USA Market).

The expert was able to acquire a request for quotation for a 4day/three night package. Three tour operators were requested to provide an itinerary, budget and program. Only two firms responded to the request and their pricing was too high.
Accommodation is an important part of the tourism experience. Wherever people make a trip they need a place to sleep. Nowadays a lot of improvements and facilities have been added to make accommodation services comfortable. High standards and comfortable accommodation services can give support to popularize the destination. There are different kinds of accommodation services offered according to the purchasing capacity and interest of customers. Accommodation does not directly allure tourists, but it plays a vital role to support tourists to choose or recommend the destination.

There are various types of accommodation available in Dili and outside Dili and tourists can choose according to their budget and personal interests. The price range is very diverse from $50 dollars to $150 dollars. Prices may differ according to the season. There is some information available on hotel websites and tourists can search information and book hotels in Dili online.

It is also possible for religious travellers to stay in religious community, covents or other accommodation related their religious/pilgrimage activities. This affords travelers with the opportunity to build relationships and friendships within the local community and also contribute to the local economy.

In order to fulfil and satisfy the needs, wants and expectations of faith-based travellers, a travel itinerary should be well-organized and balance both leisure and spiritual elements of the trip. Thus, joint effort is needed from all stakeholders and service providers mentioned in this section to deliver a successful experience. In particular, the public sector as well faith-based institutions such as the Catholic Church need to collaborate closely with the private sector and tourism service providers. Inevitably, there will be fragmentation in the beginning, but over time close partnerships can be established. In the absence of this, it will be difficult to launch faith-based tourism in earnest in the country. There are valuable lessons learned from other countries that can be applied and serve as good practice examples.

Hotels located outside of Dili have great potential to diversify visitor itineraries, such as Camei Beach located in Liquica with its famous Black Rock Restaurant where visitors may enjoy fishing and boating as well as dolphins watching. Camping grounds are also available there. Although only 30 kilometers away from Dili, it is also a good alternative for visitors who like to experience nature in a simple way. Also accommodation and hotels in other areas can be developed and offered to visitors for combined stay packages which include mountain trek activities with magnificent views, four wheel driving experiences throughout the country and interaction with the community.

If managed well, faith-based tourism can strengthen ties between people and countries, while creating jobs for young people and bringing prosperity to communities throughout the Timor-Leste. This makes an impact economically and socially. Thus, religious tourism can have wider long-term benefits as a local development agent, both in the eyes of visitors and residents, and lead to a sustained enhancement of cultural and art facilities in the region.
CONSTRAINTS IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF RELIGIOUS TOURISM

There are a number of constraints for the development of faith-based tourism in Timor-Leste that require urgent attention if the country is to seriously develop this niche market. This section highlights some of these constraints. These should be addressed by government, industry and civil society organizations such as the Catholic Church.

Program Itinerary
There are currently limited itineraries from which travelers and tour operators can choose. This limited the potential for attracting faith-based tourists to Timor-Leste. To remedy this, inbound tour operators and/or destination management companies should tailor itineraries according to the needs of the traveler and potential source markets, such as Indonesia.

Marketing/Promotion
Marketing and promotion activities are limited and as a result there is not much awareness of Timor-Leste as a faith-based tourism destination. In 2018 and 2019, the Hotel Owners Of Timor Lorosa’e Association (HOTL) joined The Bali and Beyond Travel Fair (BBTF) in Bali in an effort to create the awareness of the destination. It is advisable that participation in BBTF and other travel trade shows should continue. It might also be strategic to arrange a special event where sellers from Timor-Leste can set up table tops and buyers from the Association of the Indonesia Travel Agent (ASITA) can be invited to interact with the sellers and exchange knowledge about products and consumer needs. This will enable travel professionals in Bali to improve their capacity to sell destination Timor-Leste.

At the local level, to induce improved visitor spending impact, it is advisable to produce a Dili Map to improve destination awareness for visitors who are already in Dili. The map should be comply with standards of the UN World Tourism Organization and be made available through hotels, tourist sites and corporate offices who have regular visitors to the country.

Product Knowledge for Buyers and Travel Distributors
Product knowledge is important to arrange and prepare accordingly. Familiarization trips with key opinion leaders, media and travel professionals from Bali/Jakarta/Bandung should be conducted. By inviting these people to come and visit Dili they will improve their understanding of the produce, provide input on improvements and eventually be able promote and sell group and individual trips to Timor-Leste. Seeing is believing!

Improve Products and Services
Although many facilities are available for visitors such as choices of accommodations, restaurants, it is important that details are available to make it easier for guests to determine which restaurants and places of interest they want to go. In the information age, providing clear and transparent details about the tourism product is a critical success factor. Before Timor-Leste can promote and sell the destination, tourism products and services need to be developed to a standard that meets the expectations of international travelers. For faith-based tourism this means improving the Christo Rei Area and establishing sustainable tourism standards. This might mean collecting a fee for entrance to provide an income for operations and maintenance. Perhaps a ticket booth, small coffee shop and clean
Restrooms can be added to provide visitors with a comfortable environment, especially for those who come for praying. The area should be kept free from plastics and other rubbish, which has a lasting detrimental impact on nature. Providing rubbish bins every 10 meters in strategic spots would be useful. Christo Rei statue is the number one tourist attraction in Timor-Leste at the moment and there should be a much higher level of standards and services to satisfy visitor needs and expectations.

From the manpower side, it is good to plan ahead training program for the guides, drivers cum guide (especially for mountain area tours using four wheel drive cars). Collaboration with ASITA Bali to provide the trainers is a possibility.
WHY FAITH-BASED TOURISM IS GROWING: FROM INDONESIA PERSPECTIVE

People are now seeking religious and/or spiritual journeys/trips as a lifetime experience and a means to get away from the stresses of modern day life. And destinations are emerging to fulfil this need with innovative products and services.

More and more, middle aged people want to experience spiritual journeys to give thanks to the universe find balance between earthly and spiritual elements of life. Indonesia is non-sectarian where different faiths (Moslem, Christian, Catholic, Budhist and Hindu) are accepted and respected.

The Indonesian outbound market for religious tourism has been increasing rapidly from year to year. Often time faith-based trips are combined with leisure pursuits.

Indonesian Haj pilgrims reached 221,000 people in 2018 and the this is only limited by the Ministry of Religious Affairs annual quota. Although Indonesia is a Muslim majority country, there is a quota system and not everyone can go as they please. They have to apply and now the waiting list requires people to wait up to 20 years before being granted passage to go to Mecca for the Hajj. For some, considering age constraints, this long waiting period is not always possible. Therefore, there is significant pent up demand for faith-based tourism experiences. As seen in the below table, Indonesia had the highest number of pilgrims in 2017, due in large part to the fact that it is the most populous Muslim country on the planet.

The following graphic shows the top 10 countries who have the highest numbers of Hajj pilgrims in 2017:

With the visit of The King of Saudi Arabia King Salman bin Abdulaziz Al Saud to Indonesia in March 2018, the Indonesian Government was able to negotiate a higher quota for Indonesians which will likely result in more supply for Hajj in the years to come.
Visits to the holyland (Egypt, Israel and Jordan) by Indonesian Christians reached about 1.1 million in 2018, which according to Minanews.net is an increase of 13% from 2017 and 38% from 2016.

There are and estimated 24 million Christians in Indonesia which constitutes 10% of the country's population. Of these 17 million are reportedly Protestant and 7 million Catholic. While statistics are not as accurate for Christian-based religious tours, there is evidence to suggest that Indonesian Christians do travel overseas for a variety of reasons, including faith.

Hindu influences reached the Indonesia Archipelago as early as the 1st century, and mainly in Bali island. 80% of Balinese people are Hindu. However, the Hindu community is also found in Central Kalimantan and Central Sulawesi. Originally from Bali, they immigrated a long time ago to those parts of the Indonesian Archipelago. Galungan, Kuningan and Nyepi are the most important dates in the Balinese Hindu calendar as is Tirtayatra (a Hindu spiritual journey). For Indonesian Hindus and their Tirtayatra India is a popular overseas destination, while Mt. Bromo, Mt. Semeru, Mt. Salak are popular domestic destinations for their spiritual journey. There is a potential for Balinese Hindus to go for a Tirtayatra to Pura Giri Nata/Taibesi when completed in early 2020.
STRATEGY TO PAVE WAY FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF FAITH BASED TOURISM IN TIMOR LESTE

TOURISM PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT (SUPPLY)

In relation to tourism product development in Timor-Leste, there is a need to develop and/or improve places of interests, facilities, and services available in the country. A summary of key observation and corresponding mitigatory solutions to be taken into considerations are provided below:

Airlines:
Dili is currently only served by two countries, including Indonesia (DPS) and Australia (DRW). There is talk of the Singapore (SIN) also being reinstated in September 2019. There is an urgent need for more city and country points of origins in order to increase choices of where people can fly from to get to Timor-Leste. At this moment most people travelling to Dili are forced to stay overnight in Bali in order to catch the morning flight if they fly with Citilink or Sriwijaya. There is limited opportunity to connect with earlier flights from other cities and transit in Bali for flights to Dili.

The expert conducted meetings with airlines, including Sriwijaya/Nam Air, Air Timor and Citilink, and learned that most of their flights do not reach 70% load factor which for an airline ideally should be around 85% to ensure profitability. For Indonesia, the signing an operational MOU that links Sriwijaya and Citilink under one umbrella, there is a monopoly which creates unfair and unrealistic pricing making access to Timor-Leste unaffordable for most Indonesian leisure travelers.

Suggestion: An effort has to be made to invite and/or have other airlines serving the country in order to create competition. Indonesian airlines such as Air Asia Indonesia and Lion Group (Batik Air, Lion Air and Wings Air) should be contacted. Similarly international airlines like Malaysian, Royal Brunei and other ASEAN carriers should be courted.

Airport:
The Airport of Dili is quite small and the runway that just 1850m in length is enough for Boing 737-800 NG (Next Generation) and Airbus 320 to be able to land and take off. There are possibilities to extend the length to 2500m, but this would require costly reclamation of the ocean. The arrival, including the visa lane and arrival hall before passport control should be upgraded.

Suggestion: The expert would recommend to invite someone who knows technical aspects about aviation issue to investigate and make recommends on further step and plan.

Visa On Arrival Fees:
The current visa on arrival fee for tourists is $30. As Timor-Leste is in process of being considered for ASEAN membership, it might want to consider liberalizing its visa policy. This is because visa on arrival charges for ASEAN member country including Indonesian is not allowed under ASEAN free trade arrangements. Therefore, it might be prudent to start by waiving the visa on arrival fee for Indonesians.

Suggestion: The expert strongly believes that removing the visa on arrival fee for Indonesians will help stimulate tourism demand from Indonesia and suggest that USAID’s Tourism For All Project advocates these changes.

Hotels:
Hotels are very expensive compared to Indonesia. This may be in part due to high demand for limited supply, particularly for business travelers. Unfortunately, this makes visiting Timor-Leste unaffordable for more Indonesian leisure travelers.

Suggestion: Initiate a categorization of hotels by star rating and advocate for a variance in room rates. This can be organized through HOTL.

Restaurants:
There are a few dining options in Dili and this is a competitive disadvantage to many Asian cities where there are a variety of hotels, restaurants, cafes, food courts or street vendors offering delicious food. There are also limited options for trying local Timorese cuisine.

Suggestion: Promote the local cuisine as part of the visitors experience. There is a saying, “do what the locals do and eat what the locals eat”.

Inbound Travel Agents/Tour Operators
Based on the meetings with local inbound operators and after reviewing the basic itinerary for Indonesian tourists, it is clearly too expensive for the Indonesian (see the annexes for the sample of the itinerary). Itineraries need to be established that are more in the affordability range of the Indonesian leisure traveler.

Suggestion: Itineraries need to be built, such as free and easy two day/one night package to a more comprehensive five days/four nights with specific themes such as faith-based tourism. More choice at various price ranges need to be developed in the package tours.

Church Connection and Network:
The Catholic Church’s Father Angelo is very cooperative and shared a sample of itinerary for the Indonesian church congregations visiting the country. The itinerary is simple and besides visits to the City of Dili includes an overnight in Dare which has complete facilities board and lodging.

Suggestion: The Catholic Church should serve as a distribution network in the big cities such as Jakarta, Bandung, Surabaya and Semarang, to offer packages and inform travelers about Timor-Leste.

Dili Institute of Technology:
Sharing some tourism insight with Dr. Manuel Vong is good as he was the former Tourism Minister and still has a passion for promoting religious sites to be visited. One of them is visiting the Balinese Temple which has potential for Hindus pilgrimage tourism.

Suggestion: Use DIT network as well as Dr. Vong’s enthusiasm to connect and network with young people and the Government of Timor-Leste.

Tourist Information Center:
Mr. Antonio da Silva from the Tourist Information Center mentioned that there is a need to have for their staff to be trained in basic customer service to deliver good information for visitors and serve as a tourist guide. He reported that often times his staff are asked to provide guide services for cruise passengers anchored in Dili. He mentioned he met the Chairman of ASITA Bali in December 2018 and things that ASITA Bali may have instructors that can deliver a short course such as a guiding technique.

Suggestion: Provide a decent map of Dili with all the points of interest and places to go beside the list of hotels. Provide the calendar of events which is available throughout the country for all visitors who seek information at the visitor information center. Possibly think about working with private sector companies to improve the services of the visitor information center.

Attraction:
During the expert’s observation, there seem to be no scheduled art or traditional dance performances held at hotel or attractions. This is something that tourists may want to see. Apparently there are traditional dance performance can be arranged upon request.

Suggestion: Work with local communities and agencies to organize regularly scheduled performances of traditional dances and promote through hotel concierge and travel agents.

Beaches:
Christo Rei Beach and surrounding - quite interesting but it is quite dirty. The Christo Rei area hotel and restaurant owners should clean their own area each morning or when needed. In the afternoon, the seawater turns brown and it is understood this is caused by the drainage near the bridge construction. Cleanliness of natural surroundings is essential for tourism to work.

Suggestion: Make Christo Rei is a holy place and needs to be well maintained. There should be a shop selling water, coffee, souvenirs and a ticket booth to collect fees that can be used to underwrite operations and maintenance costs. Clean toilets with proper water flow and toilet papers with janitors on duty and stand by during the opening hours should be a key consideration. Maybe working with a private sector operator through a public private partnership. Make Christo Rei the beautiful place it deserves to be as the premier tourist attraction in the country.

Lauhata Beach - is interesting to do a stop over enroute to the country side. There is a hotel with eight rooms ready to serve the guests and the rate for weekdays is $45 while on weekend it is $50 per room/night. Main attractions here is seeing dolphins and enjoying the sea breezes.

Suggestion: Make Lauhata a out of town destination and promote the area for the tourists who are already in Dili and seeking an escape.

Black Rock Beach – pretty setting with hills on the left side and the sound of the waves reverberating. Although the beach is not swimmable, it is a nice place to enjoy in one of the seven guest room (bungalow style) available here.

Suggestion: This place can be used as a restaurant stop for the people enroute to other parts of Timor-Leste, and also be promoted as a destination in its own right.

Border Tourism – Nusa Tenggara Timor:
The Indonesian and Timor-Leste Ministries of Tourism launched a campaign for border tourism development to ease access for tourists wishing to travel across the island of Timor from from Kupang to Dili and vice-versa. This is also a way to escape the high airfares and expand product offer.

Suggestion: Possible to create an overland route to reach Dili from Atambua and Kupang. Maybe a short flight from Kupang to Atambua and then overland to Dili which is only 3 hours drive via a scenic route. This itinerary could be marketed to travel agents who already handle clients to NTT and other eastern Indonesia areas, such as Kupang, Alor, Savu, Rote and Flores.

Places:
Giri Natha – Around 40 minutes drive up hill, reaching up the Taibesi District, there is a Balinese temple which is under restoration and will be ready in late 2019 according to sources. This temple has potential for Balinese to visit and pray – conduct Tirtayatra – instead of flying as far as India. There is potential to attract Balinese to visit the Temple and also see the historical side of Timor-Leste at the same time. There could also be a cultural exchange such as learning how to dance the Balinese dances.

Suggestion: This place has potential for Balinese to do their Tirtayatra in Timor-Leste. Let the Hindu community prepare the “Canang” rather then bring along from Bali.

Dare – Beautiful weather and place for retreat. 30 minutes drive up the hill, Dare offers a cool mountain weather retreat. Dare receives visitors from outside to stay overnight at the Guesthouse which has 25 rooms. A meeting room and church can be used as facilities. This area has the potential to develop into eco-tourism and the church will be working with the Timor International Tourism as their consultant for future projects. According to the plan there will be basic accommodation and activities such as trekking, cycling and walking around the plantation.

Suggestion: Make tour packages for this potential destination to combine with Dili, this is a place for a kind of retreat.

MARKETING AND PROMOTION ACTION PLAN

Key Targeted Market Indonesia – conduct consultation for the following city: Bandung, Jakarta, Bali.

The outbound religious/pilgrimage tours is increasing from year to year, for visiting the holy land for Muslims to Mecca and Christians to Jerusalem. In 2018, there were 221,000 Indonesians that joined the Haj pilgrimage lasting 42 days. Haj season is different every year, this will be done approaching to Idhul Adha. On top of that there are thousands of people going on Umroh (normally 12 days) but that can be done at any time of the year. Umroh sometimes is combined with leisure destinations such as Turkey and Egypt, as both countries have historical background.

For Catholics and Christians, 1.1 million Indonesians went on Holyland tours in 2018. Notably there is no quota as with Haj trips. To avoid the hot weather they normally go in January, February, March and April as well as November and December when the weather is not as hot as during the summer. There are 40 registered Holyland tour operators based in Jakarta. For people from other cities in Indonesia they have to fly to Jakarta first. Holyland tours normally operate in groups of between 25-40 passengers each.

Hinduism which mainly departed from Bali island, visit mainly India with the Ganges River as a destination for Tirtayatra (spiritual journey). Thailand and Malaysia are also popular for these movements and there temples. Domestically, Indonesians visit Mt. Bromo, Mt. Salak, Mt. Semeru for doing the Tirtayatra.

Seeing these facts, Indonesia is a growing market and those destinations enjoy a good market share. In terms of Timor Leste, there are possibilities to promote the destination for both spiritual journey and leisure including the marine tourism.

The below table identifies possible segments within the outbound tourism market of Indonesia, describes the niche types and actions that can be taken by Timor-Leste to grow Indonesian outbound tourism to the country.

If possible the private sector or government to add more route i.s. Kupang Dili vv, then Sriwijaya may contribute Chinese tourist from China which can be scheduled from china mainland cities to Kupang.
4. Airport Upgrading? As we know that the Dili airport is relatively small, the government should think about adding up a few hundred meters of the length of the runway – now is the length is 1850 m only.

5. Any suggestion we can do better? Try to have more cities and countries to fly in.

- Offering tour packages

ACTION ITEMS SUMMARY

ACTION:

1. Antavaya is one of the outbound tour operator in Bali and has a established costumers in their data based. As a new destination we need to give some sample of program and itinerary. Feedback is that the itinerary that we present is way too expensive compare to other destination, especially the airfare. But it is always worth to test the market once the fix and more variable tour package is available with more friendly price.

2. Follow up with visit/phone calls and email for the new and fixed program with cheaper rates.

ACTION ITEMS SUMMARY

Same as Pak Fajar mentioned that last year, the government representative from TL together with the Indonesian Ambassador visited the Lion Air HQ in Jakarta but so far there is no information what so ever in regard with the new route. They have a smaller aircraft for the operation in eastern Indonesia areas.

ACTION:

1. Pak Isnandar need to have data on arrivals to Tiles and when the market is growing and the demand is there, that could be opportunity. As for Lion Air group, they see no problem to have a new route as long as the load factor is enough and continuously increasing. Speaking about the connection from Kupang to Dili with a smaller aircraft that is also possible so that we can tap the tourists who already in the eastern area such us Komodo island (which is now very famous) and the smaller islands near by such as Savu, Rote and Alor islands.

2. We have to get back to him with data then he can escalate to the higher decision maker to open the new route. I mentioned that direct flight from Jakarta with a transit to Dili would be great, or to start with open the Kupang – Dili

The Ministry of Tourism of Indonesia, informed that they do some activities in the border of Atambu, some events, such as music performances, the goal is to get also easy access for both incoming and outgoing to and from Timles and Indonesia. The Border Tourism is well planned and attract visitors from both side.

ACTION:

1. Would be good if we have the ready packages tours and promoted via Atambua border and promoted to the tourist they already in NTT area, surely that we can expect some walking adventurer tourists but if we have the information on tour packages, hotels accommodation, restaurant, where to go, Maps, what to see on cultural performances etc. So when this all information is ready that should be good to be placed on the border.

MWI producing MAP which UNWTO standard, and being the official of MAP of Indonesia, at current they produce MAP of Jakarta, Bandung, Bali and soon will Lombok and eastern Indonesia such as Komodo island.

ACTION:

1. MWI can design the MAP of Dili and TL in General, as at this moment the MAP that is available in the hotels and tourist information center is not the standard of UNWTO. Maybe a good idea to ask MWI to design and produce the MAP of Dili as initial publication.

2. It is indeed important to have a standardization MAP which contains list of Hotels, Restaurants, places of interest, which is easy to read.

3. We need to place the map at the airport, hotels, tourist information center, mall, and other tourists destination and easy for visitors to grab one,
